About 495 faith leaders and advocates are set to gather in Washington, D.C., to read the entire Bible aloud ahead of the nation's 250th anniversary.

A wide array of speakers including actors, lawmakers, and advocates will participate in the anniversary celebration. From the Trump administration Secretary of State Marco Rubio, Secretary of Transportation Sean Duffy, Secretary of Defense Pete Hegseth and Secretary of Agriculture Brooke Rollins. A number of lawmakers and government representatives will speak, including Texas Gov. Greg Abbott, U.S. Sen. Ted Cruz of Texas, U.S. Sen. Chuck Grassley of Iowa, Rep. Ashley Hinson of Iowa, and Rep. Mike Simpson of Idaho.

Entertainers and actors from various Christian backgrounds include author Patricia Dallas Jenkin, Dean Cain and David Hunt.

"We need a moment where we remember who we are, and what better way to remember who we are than through the fabric and the pages of Scripture – and as Ezra read the book of Moses to the Israelites – they were reminded of who they were," Pounds told Great American Pure Flix in an interview. "And when Nehemiah came on the scene, they rebuilt the walls of Jerusalem in 52 days. I believe that this is a moment for us as Americans to remember who we are through the foundation of Scripture."

The will of the God will never take you where the grace of God cannot keep you.

HOLY FIRE

Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?" Luke 24:32 (KJV)

There is something powerful that happens when you truly spend time with Jesus. It is not quiet, lifeless religion. It is not routine or obligation. It is fire. A real encounter with Him stirs something deep inside of you that cannot be hidden or ignored. Jesus said He would baptize you with the Holy Spirit and with fire. That means your walk with Him was never meant to be cold or casual. You were created to live with passion, with boldness, with a heart that burns for Him. When that fire is alive in you, it changes everything.

People begin to notice. Just like the early believers, others can tell when you have been with Jesus. There is a difference in your spirit. There is a confidence in your life that does not come from circumstances, but from His presence. And that fire matters most when you are in a season of waiting or battle. When Abraham stood in that place of promise, after he had obeyed and prepared everything, darkness came. The waiting stretched on. The pressure increased. But then God showed up as a flaming fire, moving through what had been prepared. That fire drove away everything that tried to bring death, doubt, and discouragement.

The same is true for you. The fire of God in your life will drive away the things that try to settle over your home. Fear cannot stay where His presence is strong. Doubt cannot remain where faith is alive. Discouragement cannot take root where there is real praise. Sometimes the most spiritual thing you can do is lift your voice. Praise is not just a song. It is a weapon. It creates an atmosphere where the enemy cannot stay. When you begin to thank Jesus, when you begin to declare His goodness, you are pushing back darkness, whether you feel it immediately or not.

This matters for your family. You are not just standing for yourself. You are standing for your home, your marriage, your children, and the generations behind you. The enemy would love for you to grow tired, to lose your fire, and to give up. But when you stay stirred, when you stay filled with the Spirit, you become a force that drives back everything trying to come against what God has promised.

Even now, God wants to restore your confidence. Not confidence in yourself, but confidence in Him. He has never failed you. What He has done before, He will do again. The promise still stands. So do not stay silent. Stir up the fire again. Lift your voice. Worship with expectation. Let your heart burn with the presence of Jesus. Because when the fire of God is burning in your life, the enemy has no place to stay.

Prayer: Lord, fill me again with Your fire. Stir my heart, strengthen my faith, and let my life reflect that I have truly been with You. Amen.

ISAIAH 26:3

You will keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on You, because he trusts in You. Isaiah 26:3

Jesus didn't die on the Cross so He could condemn us. He came to save us and grant us the peace that surpasses understanding as we navigate life's roads to the inexplicable splendors of heaven. The half of what we will see upon our much-anticipated arrival has not even entered our minds. But until that day when we meet our Savior face-to-face, we must continue to stay the course.

We were never promised a primrose path on this earth. We were, however, promised that in Him we could find peace. If we will seek Him, Jesus will carry our burdens no matter how great our load and make a way where none seems to be. He knows our end from the beginning.

What do you need to trust Him with today? Take it to the foot of the Cross and leave it there. Don't carry part of the problem back home with you. Leave the entire burden with God, knowing that He will not only meet your need but give you sweet rest in the valley.

Blessing: May the Lord bless you and keep you. May the Lord make His face to shine upon you and be gracious unto you and give you His peace. May you feel the love of God and learn to live within His limitless love for you. May you come to know and understand that God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, so that your life could be one of perpetual peace and joy that is unspeakable and full of glory. Amen and amen!

YOUR BREAKTHROUGH BEGINS WHERE YOUR EXCUSES END.

THE RETURN OF THE LORD

Our homeland is in heaven, where our Savior the Lord Jesus Christ is; and we are looking forward to his return ... Philippians 3:20 (TLB)

The Scriptures indicate that we are living in man's day. But there is coming a day that will be called the Day of the Lord. In the midst of hopelessness, there is hope! And that hope is centered in the God-man, the Lord Jesus Christ. Now the will of man runs riot in the earth. Then the will of the Lord will alone be done. Until that time, we are under orders from the King of kings to proclaim His message. When we engage in evangelism, we are obeying His great command to "go and proclaim." In doing so, we are hastening the day of His return.

Prayer: As I live in the hope of Your return, give me the wisdom and love to reach those around me.
