DREAM GREAT DREAMS – BILLY GRAHAM DEVOTION

Be thou faithful unto death . . . - Revelation 2:10

In our day much of the world believes little or nothing. People are broad but shallow. Agnosticism, anxiety, emptiness, meaninglessness, have gripped much of the world—and even the church. Our youth are desperately searching for a purpose and a meaning in their lives. They are searching for fulfillment which they are not finding in sex and drugs. By contrast, our Pilgrim forebears stand as shining examples of men who were narrow but deep, certain of what they believed, unswerving in their loyalty, and passionately dedicated to the God they trusted, and for whom they would willingly have died. I say to you, more than 350 years after the Pilgrim Fathers landed in the New World: Dream great dreams, embrace great principles, renew your hope, but above all, like them, believe in the Christ who alone can give total meaning and an ultimate goal to your life. “For in Him we live and move and have our being.”

Prayer: May I always be faithful to my belief in You, Lord Jesus Christ. Where there is despair, use me to bring Your hope.

THE GIFT OF A TENDER CONSCIENCE

Search me, God, and know my heart; test me and know my anxious thoughts.

See if there is an offensive way in my way, and lead me in the way everlasting.

Psalms 139:23-24

The small warning light flickered on the dashboard just as the highway merged into heavy morning traffic. For a few miles, the temptation was simply to ignore the tiny orange glow and turn up the radio, hoping the engine trouble would fix itself. But experienced drivers know that a warning light is never an enemy. It is a quiet mercy. It tells you about a hidden problem before you find yourself stranded on the shoulder miles from home.

Conviction often feels like that stubborn dashboard light in our spiritual lives. When the Holy Spirit gently taps on our conscience about a sharp word spoken over the kitchen table, a habit of worry, or a lingering bitterness we thought was well hidden, our first instinct is usually to pull away or defend ourselves. Nobody enjoys the uncomfortable ache of realizing we missed the mark. Yet the conviction of God is not a sign of His anger or a weapon to push you away. It is the evidence of a Father who loves you far too much to let you wander down a road that leads to hurt.

Hebrews 12:6 reminds us, “Because the Lord disciplines the one he loves, and he chastens everyone he accepts as a son.” Conviction is the heartbeat of grace at work in a believer. When your heart still responds to the whisper of the Holy Spirit, it proves that your soul is alive and responsive. A hardened heart feels nothing at all, but a tender conscience means the Spirit is actively guarding your steps.

Instead of driving you into hiding with a heavy spirit of self-doubt, holy conviction gently invites you out into the open air of forgiveness. It cuts through the static of daily stress and clears away the clutter of self-reliance so you can experience His closeness again. Sin creates distance, but conviction is the bridge God uses to pull you right back into fellowship with Him.

Practical Application: When conviction catches your attention out of the blue, the temptation is usually to fix the behavior through sheer willpower. You resolve to try harder, speak softer, and manage your temper better by tomorrow. But lasting change does not come from gritting your teeth and promising God you will do better. The single, most important step you can take today is simply to stop, breathe out your self-defense, and name the specific area before God without making excuses.

Do not hide behind justification or let shame convince you that you are too broken to be helped. Simply take a deep breath wherever you are and whisper a quiet admission to the Lord. Acknowledge the misstep, accept His forgiveness immediately, and let Him replace your striving with His peace.

Reflection: What is one area of your daily routine where you have been ignoring a quiet nudge from the Holy Spirit, and what would it look like to simply hand it over to Him right now?

Prayer - Lord, You know every hidden corner of my heart, and You see the moments where I try to justify my own actions. Thank You for not leaving me to my own habits, but for loving me enough to offer the gentle correction of Your Spirit. Forgive me for the ways I try to fix my own shortcomings through sheer willpower instead of resting in Your grace. Cleanse my conscience today and lead me gently back into the warmth of Your presence. Amen.

SPIRITUAL AWAKENING IS HAPPENING

The sight of young men cheering wildly and jumping up and down in their bathing trunks after a lake baptism is a sight one might never have seen in Sweden years ago. However, a mighty move of God is underway in what has long been seen as one of the least religious nations on earth.

Sweden is experiencing something it hasn't had since the Jesus movement in the 1970s: a deep hunger for God among its youth. Religious belief here has been in almost continuous decline since World War II. By 2000, as few as five percent of Swedes attended church.

It would come as a shock when Swedish youth picked Jesus Christ as "Influencer of the Year" for 2025.

Sweden's Jesus Conference this year saw such a longing for Jesus. Within the young generation, people are hungry for the Word of God, and they want the truth. This year was third year for conference with attendance over 3,000.
