

Welcome

HE IS SO RICH IN KINDNESS AND GRACE THAT HE PURCHASED OUR FREEDOM WITH THE BLOOD OF HIS SON AND FORGAVE OUR SINS.

EPHESIANS 1:7

Sunday 10:30am & 6pm

Coffee & Donuts Fellowship before Sunday Morning Service

Sunday Services Streamed Live

Wednesday 6pm

NewDayClaremore.church

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Sheila 5th - Johnny 6th

Welcome David Metz as our minister bringing the sermon this morning.

Special prayer for Pastor Tammy this morning.

As we pray remember the entire Hand of Hope, Joyce Meyer World Mission, Crisis Aid teams, and the Ethiopia doctors, nurses, and all the volunteers that make this happen. My everyone giving their time to join this missions trip be safe, protected, blessed, and may they be the hands of Christ, blessing everyone they come in contact with.

Please pick up a copy of the trip calendar/itinerary, which is to aid your prayer time, so you are aware of where the team will be, or what they will be doing, to include that in your personal prayer time.

THE CHOSEN – SEASON 6 EPISODE 1 - TONIGHT 6PM

We are granted special permission to show in-person, this early streaming access, before it is released to Prime Video. We will show some thoughts from the episode afterward and a time of prayer.

WEDNESDAY BIBLE STUDY – THE COURT OF HEAVEN – ROBERT HENDERSON

From this past Wednesday night's lesson. "The grace we have received determines the gift that we have. Purpose is what is written in the book (in Heaven).

Grace is the ability and the power to fulfill it."

We have experienced some things in life, or the Holy Spirit has gave us discernment about something in our bloodline, that needs a divorce in the courts of heaven. We need a decree from the Righteous Judge, so Satan has no right to use that against us. This is a step past deliverance and inner healing.

The local church is the ekklesia, the body of Christ, and we exist in our region on this earth. We need to stand in the court of heaven for our region, present the case to the Lord for what needs allowed or disallowed in our region.

The cloud of witnesses, are those who give judicial testimony in the court of heaven. "For this reason I bow my knees to the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, from whom the whole family in heaven and earth is named" Ephesian 3:14-15. Because they're in heaven, doesn't mean they're separate from us. We are still linked together in the spirit contending for God's will to be done in the earth.

The Bible says that the blood of sprinkling, which is the blood of Jesus, is speaking better things than that. It's crying out for mercy, kindness, redemption, destiny and purpose. The blood of Jesus is granting God the legal right he needs to forgive us.

The Ecclesiast, a house of prayer can come and stand, represent a culture before the Lord, it can grant God the legal right to move in a nation. They can give us the right I'm looking for to be able to bless and set a nation in divine order.

Another dimension. They would bring their tithes to the Levitical priesthood, mortal men receive tithes. Under New Testament order Jesus receives them, who is our high priest after the order of Melchizedek. When we bring our tithe, it releases a witness, means a judicial testimony. The testimony is releasing, that I believe Jesus lives.

We get saved is because we put our faith in what Jesus did on the cross. When I bring my tithe, I am releasing a testimony in heaven that I believe that Jesus lives as my Intercessor, as my mediator, as my high priest.

WHEN YOU CAN'T CARRY IT ANYMORE, DRAW NEAR TO GOD DEVOTION

My help cometh from the LORD, which made heaven and earth. – Psalm 121:2

A little girl stands in front of a door that will not open. She turns the handle, pushes with both hands, and tries again. When nothing happens, she begins to cry. An adult nearby notices her struggle and kneels beside her. “What’s wrong, sweetheart?” Through her tears, she whispers, “I can’t do it.” The adult gently opens the door and takes her hand. Just like that, the struggle is over. The little girl did not need to try harder, become stronger, or prove that she was capable. She needed help, and someone who loved her was right there.

As adults, we have learned to hide the tears, smile when we feel overwhelmed, say we’re fine when we’re falling apart, and keep moving because so many people depend on us. We tell ourselves that asking for help means we have somehow fallen short. So we carry the weight a little longer, push a little harder, and convince ourselves that if we can just find enough strength within, we will eventually be okay. But what if the breakthrough we need begins when we stop trying to be strong enough on our own and start drawing near to the One who has never asked us to be our own savior?

Jesus gives us a glimpse of this truth in Matthew 18:3, when He points His disciples toward the humility of a child. Children understand something we can spend a lifetime trying to relearn. They know how to reach for someone when they are afraid. They know how to ask for help when something is beyond their ability. Somewhere along the way, we can become so determined to prove our strength that we forget the beauty of simply being dependent on our Father. God did not design us to navigate life apart from Him. Our need for His presence is not a weakness to overcome, it is an invitation to relationship.

Psalm 121 begins with a question that reaches into the heart of every weary person: “I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help?”. When life becomes overwhelming, our eyes naturally settle on the problem. We focus on the unanswered question, the difficult conversation, the uncertain future, or the burden that refuses to lift. We replay, rehearse, and search for a way to regain control. But the psalmist turns our attention somewhere else: “My help cometh from the LORD, which made heaven and earth.” Our help does not ultimately come from our ability to figure everything out. It comes from the God who created what we cannot comprehend and sees what we cannot see. Verse 4 reminds us that He “shall neither slumber nor sleep.” When we are exhausted from trying to hold everything together, He has not grown weary of holding us.

Jude 1:24 offers a truth worth holding close on the days when our strength feels nearly gone: “Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy”. Notice where the hope rests. We were created to need God. Our hope does not depend on our ability to keep ourselves from ever stumbling. It depends on the faithfulness of the Savior who holds us. We are not disqualified by our weakness. We are invited to bring it to Him.

Perhaps you have become the person everyone else leans on. You are the one who answers the phone, makes the plans, cares for the family, and keeps going when things get difficult. People may see your strength without realizing how much it costs you. Maybe even your prayers have become quiet because you feel you should have figured things out by now. But God is not waiting for you to get yourself together before you come to Him. 2 Corinthians 12:9 reminds us of His promise: “My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness.” (KJV). You do not have to hide the places where you feel weak. Those are the very places where you can learn to rely more deeply on His grace.

You do not have to become strong enough to stop needing God. You can grow stronger by learning to depend on Him.

When the burden feels too heavy, draw near. When the way forward feels uncertain, lift your eyes. And when you feel as though you cannot hold everything together anymore, remember this: the God who made heaven and earth is not asking you to save yourself. He is inviting you to trust the One who is able to keep you.

Prayer - Father, I confess that sometimes I get so busy trying to hold everything together that I forget You are holding me. You see the fears I hide, the burdens I carry, and the places where I feel I have nothing left to give. Teach me to come to You honestly, with the trusting heart of a child who knows that help is near. Give me strength for today and the faith to leave tomorrow in Your hands. Thank You for being my help, my keeper, and my Savior, even when I cannot see how everything will work out. In Jesus' name, Amen.*

Therefore, having been justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ, through whom also we have access by faith into this grace in which we stand, and rejoice in hope of the glory of God. -Romans 5:1-2 NKJV

MINISTRY TEAM
Pastors Charles & Tammy Wilson (918) 633-1291 † (918) 724-7289 Charles@NewDayClaremore.church Tammy@NewDayClaremore.church	Pastors David & Ramona Channel Associate Pastors (918) 550-0704 † (918) 734-1930 David@NewDayClaremore.church